

Cards face out

Each role card sits in a stand facing the table.

3 2 1 BOO! BOO! BOO!

A 3, a 2 and a 1 for every player

Boo Who?

Social Deduction · 4–8 Players · 15 Min

A social deduction game where everyone knows your role but you.

Why it stands out

- Every Boo someone puts on you is both a clue and a bet against you.
- No turns, no elimination and no moderator: everyone plays at once, and a round takes four minutes.
- 4–8 players from a tuck box.

For fans of Scape Goat and Skull

Boo!

3 2 1

Everyone places a 3, a 2 and a 1 on three other players at once. Your 3 pays off best on someone about to call it wrong.

Run or stay?

Run!

Stay

On "3, 2, 1, boo who?" everyone points at once: at yourself to run, at the table to stay. Living should run. Ghosts should stay.

Flip!

Scared to death

Living and stayed: the 3, 2 and 1 on you pay their owners 6 points. Running would have scored you 3.

4–8 players

15 min three rounds

17 cards, 8 stands, in a tuck box
